Alliant

THE HIDDEN THREAT

Environmental risks are vast in size and covert in nature. They lurk beneath the surface, out of sight and undetected. Even the smallest issues can cause irreparable physical and financial damage. With so much on the line, you need an insurance partner that understands these risks and can chase them from the shadows, preventing them from wreaking havoc on your organization.

Environmental Insurance

The Environmental Group of Alliant Insurance Services is comprised of specialists with a comprehensive understanding of environmental science and law. Since every organization has unique environmental risks and exposures, we deploy our technical expertise to structure customized insurance programs that are equipped to guard against environmental risks of all shapes and sizes.

PROTECTING PUBLIC ENTITIES

Public entities have a wide array of assets, each with a unique set of environmental risks. Alliant is an industry leader in providing public entity-specific coverage that can be tailored for all owned and leased locations, third-party claims, and cleanup, including solutions for:

- Landfills, transfer stations, and recycling facilities
- Water and wastewater treatment plants
- Vehicle maintenance garages
- Sewer trunk lines; streets and roads; storm drain outfalls
- Non-owned disposal sites
- Above-ground and underground storage tanks
- Products liability for sale of drinking water
- Off-site operations such as pest control spraying, household hazardous waste collection, hazardous materials response teams, police, and fire operations
- Transportation exposure

CONFIDENCE TO GET THE DEAL DONE

Environmental issues also pose a significant threat to real estate transfers and redevelopment projects. Countless deals have fallen victim to contamination-related challenges. Alliant has the expertise to eliminate uncertainty related to the remediation of known pollution, existing but undiscovered contamination, or future pollution. From military base closures to brownfields to community redevelopment projects, we will quantify the environmental risk and structure an insurance program that will help you get the deal done.

AVAILABLE COVERAGE

Alliant understands that environmental risks are constantly in flux. We have responded by providing flexible insurance solutions with the sophistication to adapt to changing conditions. Our broad portfolio of environmental insurance products includes:

- Public entity environmental insurance
- Real estate transfers and redevelopment projects
- Manufacturing, commercial, industrial, or habitational sites

- Environmental contractors pollution liability insurance
- Environmental consultants pollution and professional liability insurance

THE SCIENCE BEHIND THE POLICY

Every organization we service is unique, from its business plan to its asset mix. The same can be said of environmental risks. Addressing these risks, both known and unknown, requires the expertise of an insurance partner that understands the science behind the policy. Alliant knows where the risks lie and has the technical expertise to stop them in their tracks.
